Transition Work for Core Maths

The transition work for Core Maths is to complete the online course on Integral Maths. Your school may have already given you a log in for this but if not, email me on joanna.hill@ashfield.notts and I will set this up for you.

You will firstly need to watch the introduction video, then start work on the units. Once you have completed all the assessments, you will be able to print out a certificate which will show your progress.

It would be most beneficial if you could do around an hour each week so that you are consistently doing Maths throughout the few months you are away from school.
