Transition Work for Maths and Further Maths A-level

The transition work for both Maths and Further Maths is to complete the online course on Integral Maths. Your school may have already given you a log in for this but if not, email me on joanna.hill@ashfield.notts and I will set this up for you.

You will firstly need to watch the introduction video, then start work on the units. Once you have completed all the assessments, you will be able to print out a certificate which will show your progress.

Because it is important for you to do Maths continuously, we recommend that you don't try to complete it all in one week but throughout your holidays.

There will be a PRIZE for the most days used to complete the course. You can choose from a £10 pod voucher or £10 off your calculator purchase.
